

Someone I Used To Know

Once bright eyes that used to greet me
Now locked in an empty stare
I can't get in, to see if someone's there
Words that once had come so easy
Now seem forced, and far away
In those rare times
When you've even got something to say

And I can't believe that its you I see
Though my eyes, they swear that its so
But you look just like
Someone I used to know

Happy times from a collage
Of memories, so far away
I can't find one
That resembles you today

And I can't believe that its you I see
Though my eyes, they swear that its so
But you look just like
Someone I used to know

Was I so blind, was I so blind
That I didn't even see you leave
I don't know, the answer is lost
In a past I can't retrieve

And I can't believe that its you I see
Though my eyes, they swear that its so
But you look just like
Someone I used to know
Yeah, you look just like
Someone I used to know
